

University of East London: Inspiring and motivating tutors

Learning about Money in the Primary Classroom is a comprehensive pfeg produced resource which has motivated lecturers at UEL to look at the potential for developing financial education using a more holistic and diverse approach.

Education leaders at UEL initially asked pfeg for support in delivering financial education as part of their primary maths specialist route. They are now focussing on developing a wider variety of cross-curricular elements in their work with Teaching Schools and trainees.

Learning about Money in the Primary Classroom inspired the UEL lecturers by:

- ✓ providing suggestions for structure and progression in financial education in the Learning About Money Primary Planning Framework
- ✓ giving ideas for activities to use from Early Years Foundation Stage through to Year 6
- ✓ offering a wealth of suggestions across curriculum areas
- ✓ suggesting interesting approaches such as using poetry to engage with financial education
- ✓ presenting a range of teacher-led assessment task
